Our history

The Immigration law n.189/2002 (so-called Bossi-Fini Law), on the base of a previous and successful experimental project, established:

The Protection System for Asylum Seekers and Refugees - SPRAR

The Central Service of SPRAR

The Fondo nazionale per le politiche e i servizi per l'asilo (FNPSA) –
The National Fund for Asylum Policies and Services

The Central Service (Servizio centrale)

Established by art. 32 of Law 189/2002 and activated by the Ministry of Interior, a convention entrusts its management to ANCI

SPRAR is responsible for the coordination and the technical support of activities linked to the local projects of reception

The Central Service's Tasks

Central Service's tasks:

Managing of the national data bank

Monitoring of the activities locally undertaken for asylum seekers and refugees

Providing technical assistance and consultancy to local projects, including setting up services, operators training and monitoring of projects' quality standards with regard to Sprar guidelines

Supporting for information and awareness-raising activities

Integrated reception programme NOT ONLY food and shelter provision

Personalized socio-economical project for each beneficiary

Social, psychological and legal assistance and information

Awareness/Information campaigns at local level

Local networks

SPRAR

The System has been improved gradually, although not as much as needed

In the last three years the system has grown: from 3.000 to the current 27.089 reception places

Key words of SPRAR

Public nature of the resources

Synergies

Decentralization of “integrated reception” actions

Local networks

Specific skills

Voluntary nature

Key words of SPRAR: Public nature

Public nature of both the resources made available and of the bodies that are politically responsible for providing reception - Ministry of Interior and local authorities according to the multilevel governance approach

Key words of SPRAR: Synergies

Synergies, started on the territory with the “managing bodies”, third sector players – associations. NGOs, cooperatives – that offer an instrumental contribution to the implementation of the interventions

Key words of SPRAR: Decentralization

Decentralization of “integrated reception” actions, carried out across the national territory with a presence in all the Regions (except for Valle d’Aosta)

Key words of SPRAR: Local networks

Local networks – stable, solid, interactive – promoted and developed with the involvement of all players and special interlocutors for the success of the reception, protection and social inclusion measures adopted

Key words of SPRAR: Specific skills

Specific skills of operators, strengthened over the years by in-the-field experience, by training and updating, ensured also at the central level

Key words of SPRAR: Voluntary nature

Voluntary nature of the local authorities' participation in the network of projects for reception, bearing witness to the political engagement by the local administrations in choosing to plan the interventions to be carried out in their territory of competence in favour of asylum seekers and refugees
