

About:

The AEHT Youth Parliament was first introduced by Klaus Enengl when he was the AEHT President in 2009. Since its conception there have been seven Youth Parliaments hosted in different AEHT schools and countries.

AEHT is an International Non-Governmental Organisation (NGO) enjoying consultative status with the Council of Europe. The prime objective of the association is to promote a European outlook among Hotel and Tourism Schools.

AEHT connects not only schools and their principals but focuses its activities predominantly on students and teachers. A large range of events is organized to meet the needs of all of these groups. More on: <https://aeht.eu/>

Aims:

- ➔ To enhance the ability of young people to understand and debate key issues related to the hospitality, travel and tourism industry at the European level
- ➔ To provide young people with networking opportunities and cultural exchanges in international settings
- ➔ To help young people improve their knowledge and soft skills including English language communication, confidence, reliability, flexibility, team working, the ability to handle stress under pressure and maintenance of a good work ethic
